UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY

BLUE BOX TOYS, INC.

Plaintiff,

v.

DAVID JOSEPH CATANZARO,

Defendant.

Civil Action No.

JURY DEMAND

Filed via ECF

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

Plaintiff Blue Box Toys, Inc. (“Plaintiff” or “Blue Box”) through its counsel, brings this Complaint against Defendant David Joseph Catanzaro (“Defendant” or “Catanzaro”) for, inter alia, declaratory judgment under 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202 as follows.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is a declaratory judgment action seeking a determination that Blue Box does not infringe any valid or enforceable claim of US Patent No. 7,653,959 (the “‘959 Patent”) under 35 U.S.C. §271.

2. This is a declaratory judgment action seeking a determination that the ‘959 Patent is invalid, in whole or in part.

3. This is a declaratory judgment action seeking a determination that the ‘959 Patent is unenforceable, in whole or in part.

4. On information and belief, Catanzaro is the inventor of the ‘959 Patent, which is entitled “Article Assembly” and issued on February 2, 2010. A true copy of the ‘959 Patent is attached as Exhibit A. On information and belief, Catanzaro claims rights under the ‘959 Patent and has threatened to assert such rights against Blue Box.

THE PARTIES

5. Plaintiff Blue Box Toys, Inc. is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware with a principal place of business located at 220 South Orange Ave., Suite 106, Livingston, New Jersey 07039.

6. On information and belief, Defendant David Joseph Catanzaro is an individual residing in the state of Pennsylvania.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This is a complaint for declaratory relief under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. §§ 1, et seq.

8. Blue Box seeks declaratory relief under 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

9. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under 37 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1338, 2201 and 2202.

10. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Catanzaro. Catanzaro has conducted business directed at the State of New Jersey by systematically and continuously availing itself of the privilege of doing business in New Jersey to exploit to the ‘959 Patent.

11. Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and 1391(c) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to this claim occurred in this judicial district.

CONTROVERSY BETWEEN THE PARTIES

12. On information and belief, Catanzaro is a non-practicing owner of the ‘959 Patent.

13. On at least January 21 and 27, 2015, Catanzaro sent correspondence to Blue Box requesting execution of a “Standstill Agreement” to allow Catanzaro and Blue Box to discuss allegations of infringement leveled by Catanzaro against Blue Box. Such Standstill Agreement purported to contemplate a thirty (30) day discussion period between the parties in which Blue Box would take no legal action against Catanzaro in exchange for detailed information regarding its alleged infringement.

14. On February 3, 2015, Counsel for Blue Box responded to Catanzaro indicating Blue Box’s inability to sign the Standstill Agreement without a full identification of the allegedly infringed patent and information identifying the owner of any such allegedly infringed patent.

15. On February 23, 2015, Catanzaro sent correspondence to counsel for Blue Box with an attached draft Complaint specifically identifying the ‘959 Patent and alleging that Blue Box “has infringed, induced others to infringe, and/or contributorily infringed, literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, one or more claims of the ‘959 Patent.” A copy of this correspondence is attached hereto as Exhibit B and a copy of the draft Complaint provided by Catanzaro is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

16. The draft Complaint provided by Catanzaro further identifies the source of Blue Box’s alleged infringement as its “manufacturing, having manufactured, importing, using, offering for sale and/or selling products that embody and/or practice the patented invention, known as ‘Jungle Friends Shape n’ Sort’ product line.”

17. Blue Box has not and does not infringe, either directly or indirectly, any valid and enforceable claim of the '959 Patent, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, or by contributing to or inducing the infringement of others.

18. A search of the publically available file history for the '959 Patent reveals that Catanzaro filed a Terminal Disclaimer on August 27, 2001 to obviate a double patent rejection over U.S. Patent No. 6,026,532 (the "'532 Patent"). In the Terminal Disclaimer, Catanzaro agreed "that any patent so granted on the instant application shall be enforceable only for and during such period that it ant the prior patent are commonly owned." The instant application to which the Terminal Disclaimer applies issued as the '959 Patent on February 2, 2010. A copy of the Terminal Disclaimer is attached hereto as Exhibit D.

19. A search of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office's assignment database reveals that Catanzaro assigned his entire interest in the '532 patent to Church & Dwight Co., Inc. by way of an assignment executed on February 28, 2011 and recorded June 9, 2011. As of February 28, 2011, the '959 Patent no longer maintained common ownership with the '532 Patent.

20. By virtue of the foregoing, a substantial controversy exists between the parties that is of sufficient immediacy and reality to warrant declaratory relief.

COUNT I

(Declaratory Judgment of Non-Infringement)

21. Blue Box realleges and incorporates by reference herein the allegations of the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

22. As a result of the acts described in the foregoing paragraphs, there exists a substantial controversy of sufficient immediacy and reality to warrant the issuance of a declaratory judgment.

23. A judicial determination is necessary and appropriate so that Catanzaro may ascertain its rights in the '959 Patent.

24. Blue Box is entitled to a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202 that it has not infringed and does not infringe, either directly or indirectly, any valid and enforceable claim of the '959 Patent under 35 U.S.C. §271.

COUNT II

(Declaratory Judgment of Invalidity)

25. Blue Box realleges and incorporates by reference herein the allegations of the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

26. Blue Box contends that claims 1, 4, 5 and 8 of the '959 Patent are invalid for failing to comply with the conditions and requirements for patentability set forth by the patent laws of the United States, Title 35, including, but not limited to, §§ 102, 103 and/or 112, and the rules, regulations and laws pertaining thereto.

27. By way of example and without limiting the allegations of this Complaint, Blue Box contends that claims 1, 4, 5 and 8 of the '959 Patent are rendered at least anticipated and/or obvious, under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102 and 103, respectively, by U.S. Patent No. 2,539,035, U.S. Patent No. 3,105,612 and U.S. Patent No. 3,178,060.

28. Blue Box is entitled to entry of judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202 declaring claims 1, 4, 5 and 8 of the '959 Patent invalid under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102, 103 and/or 112.

COUNT III

(Declaratory Judgment of Unenforceability)

29. Blue Box realleges and incorporates by reference herein the allegations of the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

30. Blue Box contends that the '959 Patent is unenforceable by virtue of not being commonly owned with the '532 Patent over which it is terminally disclaimed.

31. Blue Box is entitled to entry of judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202 declaring the '959 Patent unenforceable.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Blue Box prays for the following relief:

A. A declaration that Blue Box has not infringed, either directly or indirectly, any valid and enforceable claim of the '959 Patent;

B. A declaration that the '959 Patent invalid as either obvious or anticipated in view of the prior art;

C. A declaration that the '959 Patent is unenforceable;

D. An order declaring that Blue Box is a prevailing party and that this is an exceptional case, awarding Blue Box its costs, expenses, disbursements, and reasonable attorney's fees under 35 U.S.C. § 285, recent precedent promulgated by the United States Supreme Court in Octane Fitness, and all other statutes, rules and common law;

E. That Catanzaro be ordered to pay all costs associated with this action; and

F. That Blue Box be granted such other and additional relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Dear Mr. Kaufman,

This email is a reply to your 2.3.15 email. I apologize for the delay getting this information to you, but I have been in full negotiations with one other believed infringer and a significant amount of effort was directed to those negotiations.

I have decided to provide you with all relevant information you requested. I have also included a preliminary complaint which contains all relevant facts regarding this matter. I believe Blue Box's exposure to be very minimal and it would serve both of us well if this matter could be resolved without any formal filings. I would be willing to forgo any and all claims with respect to the patent at issue, for a low five figure amount.

After you review the attached material, I would have no problem sending you a few settlement /licensing agreements I have already obtained to expedite this matter if your client is amenable.

Thanks,
David Joseph Catanzaro

Dear Mr. Joseph:

We are intellectual property counsel for Blue Box Toys, Inc. ("Blue Box") and have been provided with copies of your prior correspondence regarding alleged infringement by Blue Box products. Your correspondence unfortunately lacks any indication as to the identity of the complaining party or the asset that is allegedly infringed. Without such information, we are unable to make an independent determination as to the validity of your claim. We accordingly require at least identification of the US patent number at issue before we are able to determine the proper course of action. After receiving this information and having an opportunity to evaluate the merits of your claim, we would be in a position to determine if entering the proposed litigation standstill agreement is in the best interests of our client.

Magistrate Judge _____

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

PLAINTIFF'S VERIFIED COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT

Plaintiff, David J. Catanzaro ("Plaintiff" or "Mr. Catanzaro"), complains of Blue Box Toys, Inc. ("Blue Box Toys") as follows:

I. JURISDICTION.

1. This is a claim for patent infringement under the patent laws of the United States, Title 35 of the United States Code. This Court and other federal district courts have exclusive jurisdiction over the subject matter of this case under 28 U.S.C. § 1338(a).

II. VENUE.

2. Venue in this judicial district is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) and (c) in that this is the judicial district in which a substantial part of the acts and omissions giving rise to the claims occurred. Further, venue is proper as to each defendant under 28 U.S.C. § 1400(b).

III. PARTIES.

3. Plaintiff currently resides at 286 Upper Powderly Street, Carbondale, Pennsylvania 18407. Plaintiff is the owner of United States Patent No. 7,653,959 B1 (the “‘959 patent”), entitled “Article Assembly,” that issued on February 2, 2010. Plaintiff has the sole right to sue for infringement of said patent. A copy of the ‘959 patent is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

4. Upon information and belief, defendant Blue Box Toys is a New Jersey company with its principal place of business at 220 South Orange Ave., Suite #106 Livingston, NJ 07039

5. Plaintiff does not know the true identities of fictitious Defendants Does 1 through 50, but reserves the right to amend this complaint to add said defendants upon discovery of their true identities.

6. This court has personal jurisdiction over the named defendant.

IV. RELEVANT MATTER

7. The ‘959 patent is a continuation of U.S. Patent No. 6,026,532 (the ‘532 patent”) which was assigned to the Church & Dwight Co. on February 28, 2011, as part of a settlement agreement during a patent infringement lawsuit (David Catanzaro v. Procter & Gamble Co. et al.)

8. The ‘959 patent contained a Terminal Disclaimer whereby the Disclaimer stated that joint ownership of the ‘532 and ‘959 patent was required for the ‘959 patent to be enforceable.

9. It is believed Church & Dwight allowed the ‘532 patent to expire intentionally in February, 2012 for lack of paying the required maintenance fee.

10. Plaintiff filed a legal malpractice case in the Northern District of Ohio on May 2, 2013 against the attorneys who represented Plaintiff in the Procter & Gamble Co. et al. lawsuit (Case No. 1:13 CV 996 Catanzaro vs. Seamon Garson et al).

11. Within the pleadings of the above stated malpractice case Plaintiff alleged that he was induced to enter into a Patent Purchases, Settlement Agreement which caused Plaintiff to alienate his interest in the ‘532 patent and to give up his interest in the ‘959 patent.

12. Defendants maintained that the ‘959 patent was still enforceable, and that Plaintiff did not lose the right to enforce the ‘959 patent as a direct result of the expiration of ‘532 patent.

13. After near 20 months of litigation, Judge Dan A. Polster presiding Judge in the legal malpractice case, issued an order on December 15, 2014 (hereto as Exhibit B) stating that the court cannot issue an advisory opinion on the enforceability or unenforceability of the '959 patent and demanded that a judicial determination or order must be made within the context of a Patent infringement lawsuit.

15. Judge Dan A. Polster dismissed the case without prejudice and tolled the statute of limitations until there is a final judgment in a patent infringement litigation involving the '959 patent.

16. As a direct result of information exchanged and obtained in the malpractice lawsuit, along with the directed order imposed by Judge Polster to obtain a final order in an infringement action to be able to reopen the malpractice case, Plaintiff has 'sufficient reason' to presently assert that the '959 patent is enforceable from the time it issued on February 2, 2010 up-and-until its expiration date of December 30, 2016, with the exception being, from February 2011 through February 2012 when the '532 patent was enforceable by Church and Dwight.

V. CLAIMS.

COUNT I – DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

17. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 16, inclusive.

18. An actual, present and justiciable controversy has arisen between Plaintiff and Defendants regarding the '959 patent.

19. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201, et seq., Plaintiff seeks declaratory judgment from this Court that Defendant has infringed upon the '959 patent.

COUNT II – PATENT INFRINGEMENT

20. Blue Box Toys transacts business in this judicial district related to the ‘959 patent, without a license or permission from plaintiff. Defendant has infringed, induced others to infringe, and/or contributorily infringed, literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, one or more claims of the ‘959 patent. Defendant did so by manufacturing, having manufactured, importing, using, offering for sale and/or selling products that embody and/or practice the patented invention, known as “Jungle Friends Shape n' Sort” product line.

22. Defendant Blue Box Toys transacts business in this judicial district and has committed acts of infringement in this judicial district by offering for sale and selling the Jungle Friends Shape n' Sort product line after February 2, 2010.

23. Plaintiff seeks damages for patent infringement against defendant for the maximum period of time permitted by law.

24. Defendant has directly infringed claims 1, 4, 5 & 8 of the ‘959 patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271(a). Upon information and belief, Defendant has also infringed claims 1, 4, 5 & 8 of the ‘959 patent by knowingly and actively inducing others to infringe in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271(b).

25. Upon information and belief, Defendants infringement of the ‘959 patent have been willful and deliberate. Defendants infringement has injured plaintiff.

VI. PRAYER FOR RELIEF.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, David J. Catanzaro, respectfully requests that this Court enter Judgment against Defendants and against their subsidiaries, successors, parents, affiliates, directors, agents, servants, employees, and all persons in active concert or participation with them, granting the following relief:

- A. Issue a declaratory judgment stating that Defendants have infringed the '959 patent;
- B. Order an award of damages adequate to compensate Plaintiff for the infringement that has occurred, but in no event less than a reasonable royalty as permitted by 35 U.S.C. § 284, together with pre-judgment and post-judgment interest;
- C. Issue a finding that Defendants acts of infringement have been willful and ordering an award of increased damages as provided by 35 U.S.C. § 284;
- D. Order Defendants to pay plaintiff's reasonable attorney fees and costs of this action; and,
- E. Order such other relief that Plaintiff is entitled to under law and any other further relief that this Court or jury may deem just and proper.

VII. JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff hereby demands a trial by jury on all issues presented in this complaint.

Respectfully submitted,

David J. Catanzaro

ARTICLE ASSEMBLY

This application is a continuation of U.S. Utility Application 08/777,032, filed on Dec. 30, 1996, now U.S. Pat. No. 6,026,532. The earlier filing date of this application is hereby claimed under 35 U.S.C 120.

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

1. Field of the Invention

This application claim benefit to provisional Application 60/009,323 Dec. 28, 1995.

The instant invention relates generally to toothbrushes, but may also find a useful application in other types of methods differing from the type described herein. More specifically it relates to an assembly which may contain a combination of appealing qualities.

2. Description of the Prior Art

There are various advantages in storing a toothbrush in an upright position, and numerous patents have disclosed holders or stands for retaining a toothbrush in a vertical position when placed on a horizontal surface. For instance, U.S. Pat. No. 5,444,889 (Barre) discloses a toothbrush assembly including a toothbrush and a stand for holding the brush. The stand includes a cup portion having a cavity within, wherein the brush handle can be inserted. A pair of legs separate and unattached to one another support and are connected to the cup portion. Further included is a foot for each leg, each foot being connected to the lower end of the leg opposite the cup portion. The feet are also separate and unattached from one another. U.S. Pat. Des. 369,932 and U.S. Pat. Des. 370,147 (Petronio) discloses a toothbrush holder in the shape of a torso having a front and rear portion. The front portion includes a recess extending therethrough, wherein a brush handle can be inserted. Further included, extending from the front portion, is a pair of feet which are separate and unattached from one another. A tail section extends from the rear portion. While these units may be suitable for the particular purpose to which they address, they would not be suitable for the purposes of the present invention as heretofore described.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

A first object of the present invention is to provide an assembly that will overcome the shortcomings of the prior art devices.

A second object is to provide an assembly, comprising a toothbrush having a first and second end, and a stand for receiving the second end of the brush handle therein, thereby retaining the handle in a vertical position when the stand is placed on a horizontal surface.

A third object is to provide an assembly, in which the stand is releasably connected to the toothbrush handle.

A fourth object is to provide an assembly, in which the stand is a pair of feet which are positioned together to form a continuous bottom supporting surface and a single heel portion, wherein the single heel portion includes a recess for selectively receiving the second end of the toothbrush handle therein.

A fifth object is to provide an article assembly, in which a base is connected to the bottom side of the foot stand for providing additional stability to the foot stand.

A sixth object is to provide an article assembly, in which the base includes a recess extending therethrough and in alignment with the recess in the foot stand for additionally receiving the receivable end of the article therein, for providing additional stability to the foot stand and article.

A seventh object is to provide an article assembly, that is simple and easy to use.

An eighth object is to provide an article assembly, that is economical in cost to manufacture.

Further objects of the invention will appear as the description proceeds.

To the accomplishment of the above and related objects, this invention may be embodied in the form illustrated in the accompanying drawings, attention being called to the fact, however, that the drawings are illustrative only, and that changes may be made in the specific construction illustrated and described within the scope of the appended claims.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWING FIGURES

FIG. 1 is a front exploded perspective view of the assembly according to the present invention.

FIG. 2 is a front exploded perspective view of the assembly according to the present invention showing a base for the stand.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE PREFERRED EMBODIMENTS

With regard to FIGS. 1 and 2, the embodiment of the invention drawn shows an elongated handle 1 having a first end 2 a second end 3 and a first and second side. A stand 5 is in the shape of first and second feet 6a and 6b. Each first and second feet 6a and 6b, are elongated to define a toe end and together a common heel end. First and second feet 6a and 6b are joined together and positioned together to form a continuous bottom supporting surface. The heel end of each first and second feet 6a and 6b, is positioned together to form a single heel portion 7. Single heel portion 7 includes a recess 8 extending through a top side thereof and towards a sole thereof for selectively receiving second end 3 of handle 1 therein, thereby retaining handle 1 in a vertical position when stand 5 is placed on a horizontal surface. First and second feet 6a and 6b each include a side surface, the side surfaces intersect one another in a common plane. The toe end of first and second feet 6a and 6b are at an acute angle to one another.

If desired, a base 9 could be connected to a bottom side of stand 5 as shown in FIG. 2. Base 9 may include a recess 10 extending therethrough and in alignment with recess 8 in stand 5 for additionally receiving second end 3 of handle 1 therein, to provide additional stability to handle 1 and stand 5.

It will be understood that each of the elements described above, or two together, may also find a useful application in other types of methods differing from the type described above.

While certain novel features of this invention have been shown and described are pointed out in the annexed claims, it is not intended to be limited to the details above, since it will be understood that various omissions, modifications, substitutions and changes in the forms and details of the device illustrated and in its operation can be made by those skilled in the art without departing in any way from the spirit of the present invention.

Without further analysis, the foregoing will so fully reveal the gist of the present invention that others can, by applying current knowledge, readily adapt it for various applications without omitting features that, from the standpoint of prior art, fairly constitute essential characteristics of the generic aspects of this invention.

What is claimed is new and desired to be protected by Letters Patent is set forth in the appended claims:

1. An article assembly comprising:

a) an article having a receivable end, and

b) a stand in the shape of first and second feet, each of said first and second feet being elongated to define a toe end and together a common heel end, said first and second feet being joined together and positioned together to form a continuous bottom supporting surface, said heel end of each of said first and second feet being positioned together to form a single heel portion, said single heel portion including a recess extending through a topside thereof and towards a sole thereof for selectively receiving said receivable end of said article therein, thereby retaining said article when said stand is placed on a horizontal surface, said first and second feet each including a side surface, said side surfaces intersecting one another in a common plane.

2. The article assembly as claimed in claim 1, further comprising a base connected to a bottom side of said stand.

3. The article assembly as claimed in claim 2, wherein said base includes a recess extending therethrough and in alignment with said recess in said stand for additionally receiving said receivable end of said article therein.

4. The article assembly as claimed in claim 1, wherein said toe end of said first and second feet are at an acute angle to one another.

5. An article assembly comprising:

A stand in the shape of first and second feet, each of said first and second feet being elongated to define a toe end and together a common heel end, said first and second feet being joined together and positioned together to form a continuous bottom supporting surface, said heel end of each of said first and second feet being positioned together to form a single heel portion, said single heel portion including a recess extending through a topside thereof and towards a sole thereof, said first and second feet including a side surface, said side surfaces intersecting one another in a common plane.

6. The article assembly as claimed in claim 5, further comprising a base connected to a bottom side of said stand.

7. The article assembly as claimed in claim 6, wherein said base includes a recess extending therethrough and in alignment with said recess in said stand.

8. The article assembly as claimed in claim 5, wherein said toe end of said first and second feet are at an acute angle to one another.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO
EASTERN DIVISION

DAVID CATANZARO,)	CASE NO. 1:13CV996
Plaintiff,)	JUDGE DAN AARON POLSTER
vs.)	ORDER
SEAMAN GARSON LLC/LLP, et al.,) Defendants.)

On May 2, 2013, Plaintiff David Catanzaro initiated a legal malpractice action against the Defendants by filing a Complaint in this Court. Catanzaro alleges that he suffered damages as a result of the Defendants’ “failure to properly represent” him in a patent infringement action that he filed in the Middle District of Pennsylvania, Catanzaro v. Procter & Gamble, et al, Case No. 3:09cv2231 (the “Pennsylvania Action”). Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that he was induced to enter into a Patent Purchases, Assignment and Settlement Agreement which caused him to alienate his interest in U.S. Patent No. 6, 026,532 (“the ‘532 Patent”) and give up his interest in a continuation patent, U.S. Patent No. 7, 653,959 (“the ‘959 Patent”). As part of this settlement agreement, Plaintiff alleges that he was advised by his lawyers to agree to “sell and assign all right, title and interest in the ‘532 Patent to Church and Dwight” and to grant a non-exclusive use license to Proctor & Gamble and Church & Dwight under the ‘959 Patent.

Plaintiff alleges that after the parties settled the Pennsylvania Action he continued to bring infringement claims in connection with the ‘959 patent. Plaintiff alleges that in May 2012, while he was negotiating an infringement claim against Elmer’s Products, Inc., (“Elmer”) he was informed by Elmer's attorney that he lost his rights in the '959 Patent. According to Catanzaro, the attorney told him that the '959 Patent had a "Terminal Disclaimer" which rendered his '959 Patent unenforceable because it required that the '532 and '959 Patents be jointly owned. Based on what this attorney allegedly told him, Catanzaro filed the instant malpractice case, contending that Defendants never advised him he would lose the right to enforce his '959 Patent when he settled the Pennsylvania Action.

The Court has determined that this case cannot be litigated in its current posture. Plaintiff Catanzaro is seeking damages from his former counsel for the loss of his '959 Patent rights, alleging that his patent is no longer enforceable due to the Terminal Disclaimer. The problem with this claim is that there has been no judicial determination that Catanzaro cannot enforce the '959 Patent. Defendants maintain that the patent is still enforceable, and until recently, Catanzaro has been enforcing it.

Federal courts cannot issue advisory opinions. See Bowler v. Young, 55 F. App'x 187, 188 (4th Cir. 2003) ("In order for a federal court to exercise jurisdiction over an action, the dispute must satisfy the case or controversy requirement of Article III of the Constitution. A case or controversy exists if the dispute is definite and concrete, touching the legal relations of parties having adverse legal interests. [T]he court may not issue what amounts to an advisory opinion on what the law would be under a hypothetical set of facts."). As part of his case, Catanzaro wants this court to invalidate his '959 Patent, or to hold that he has lost the right to enforce it, but there is nobody in this case who is allegedly infringing his patent and maintaining that Catanzaro has lost his right to enforce it. To be entitled to damages against his former counsel, Catanzaro must demonstrate that he has lost the right to enforce his patent due to Defendants' malpractice in connection with the Terminal Disclaimer. Since Defendants maintain that Catanzaro has not lost the right to enforce his '959 Patent, the only way this issue can be decided is through a true adversarial proceeding, one in which the plaintiff (Catanzaro) seeks to enforce his patent, and the defendant (someone using Catanzaro's patent) defends on the basis that Catanzaro has lost the right to enforce it. If Catanzaro prevails in his patent litigation, his malpractice case against his former attorneys evaporates. If a court should determine in the patent litigation that Catanzaro cannot enforce the '959 Patent on some basis other than the Terminal Disclaimer, Catanzaro's malpractice case against his former attorneys also evaporates. If, however, Catanzaro loses his patent enforcement case on the basis of the Terminal Disclaimer, then he has a basis to refile his malpractice case against his former attorneys.

Accordingly, this case is dismissed without prejudice. The Court tolls the statute of limitations as of today for a period of six months (June 12, 2015) to permit Catanzaro to file a patent enforcement action against an alleged infringer. Should Catanzaro file such an action, the tolling of the statute of limitations will remain in place until there is a final judgment in the patent enforcement litigation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
